ENGLAND EXPECTS WAR.

The British to Evacuate Soudan and Prepare to Meet the Russians.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, April 22.—That this government expects war seems to be fairly inferred from, first its last night's announcement of the probable evacuation of the Soudan; second, repeated inferences made by Mr. Gladstone last evening to the necessity of holding all troops there in readiness for service whenever they may be wanted; third, the demand for £11,000,000, a demand never made before except for war; fourth, it would not have excited popular feeling by so readily giving out Lumsden's belligerent dispatch. London's entire morning press spare no words in giving "die" to Komaroff upon Lumsden's testimony.

RESERVES RESPONDING.

LONDON, April 22.—Troops are swarming to all the barracks throughout the United Kingdom in response to the government's call for reserves. The war office in London is besieged by military officers asking for employment. It has been decided to divide the Portsmouth fleet up into channel flying and reserve squadrons. FRANCE NOW ENRAGED AT ENGLAND.

PARIS, April 22.—The Journal Des Debats says this morning in regard to Gladstone's statement avowing the responsibility for the suppression of the Bosphore Egyptian that France must now look to England for redress. "We will maintain our rights and do not lack ample means to do so." It is also stated here that the French fleet has been got in readiness for the purpose of making a naval demonstration at Alexandria to enforce compliance with the demand of France for a rehabilitation of the suppressed newspaper.

LUMSDEN'S REPLY.

General Komaroff's account of the attack on Penjdeh is considered incorrect. General Komaroff says that on the 25th of March, one detachment approached Tash-Kepri on our bank of the Kushk river.

Reply—Tash-Kepri is Kurti for Puli-Khisti. General Komaroff's claim to either bank of the Kushk is untinable. The left bank has always been held by Afghans and was never subject to Russian occupation. On the 29th of February the Russians located an outpost of twenty-five Turkomans at Kizil-Tepe mound, one mile north of Puli-Khifti and about a mile from the nearest point on the Kushk river, near the Kushk's junction with Murghab river. This had always remained the extreme limit of the Russian advance within their line of videttes. The Russian country detachment alluded to did advance against Puli-Khristi, March 25, but they retired before reaching there, when warned by the Afghan commander, as they had been on February 20th.

Secondly General Komaroff states that near the bridge he found an entrenchment occupied by Afghans. I reply that this portion was occupied by the Afghans previous to General Komaroff's advance and to the agreement of March 17.

Thirdly—General Komaroff says, "In order to avoided a conflict I placed my troops five versts from the Afghan position." In reply to this I can only refer to the main body as the Russian troops were in Kizil-Tepe, a mile from the Afghan position and the Russian vedettes considerably in advance of that point.

Fourthly—General Komaroff says, "When the Afghans were convinced we had no intention of attacking them, they began to come daily nearer to our camp. I reply that far from the Afghans being convinced of General Komaroff's innocent intentions, the continued irritating daily attempts to provoke hostility convinced the Afghans that the Russians determined to provoke a conflict. This induced to what appeared military necessity in extending their defensive positions.

Fifthly—General Komaroff states that on the 27th of March, the Afghans sent against a company, which was charged with covering a reconnoissance, three companies with cannon and some cavalry. In reply to this I say that the reconnoissance in itself ment hostile intention. The Russian company ment 250 men more than an equivalent to three Afghan companies, which aggregated 225 men. On the 27th two bodies of Russians simultaneously advanced. Colonel Alikhanoff, with the cavarly, pushed past Puli-Khisti. The Russian infantry penetrated the right flank of the Afghan position on the right bank of the Murghab. Col. Alikhanoff only retired when intercepted by the Afghans. The cavalry was four miles in the rear of the Afghan position. The Russian infantry only retired when the Afghan commander drew up the entire companies, warnining the Russian officer that if he advanced further he would be fired upon. General Komaroff's chief of staff at an interview, had on the 29th, called Col. Alikhanoff's advances merely a pleasure trip, but he was informed that the Afghan commander viewed it in a more serious light.

Sixthly General Komaroff states the arrogance and audacity of the Afghans increased by degrees. I reply that it may have been so, but if so, it was entirely caused by Russian action. The Afghans did their utmost to avoid a collision. It is solely owing to their patience and forbearance during the two months of incessant irritation that peace was preserved so long. The Afghan commander's courteous reply of March 29 to General Komaroff's ultimatum proves his wish to the last to avoid a conflict. General Komaroff says that on the 28th the Afghans occupied the height commanding the left flank of the Russian camp, and began to throw entrenchments there to establish a post of cavalry behind the Russian line, and placed a picket within gun shot distance. I reply that the Afghan commander did on the 28th, after a hostile reconnoissance on the 27th, place a post of observation on the hills on the right bank of the Murghab river for the purpose of giving notice of any fresh Russian advance, but the post was withdrawn the next day.

Eighthly—General Komaroff says on the 29th he sent to the Afghan commander energetic summons, etc., and received an answer that by the advice of the English, he, the Afghan commander, refused to retire across the Kushk river. In reply to this I may state that the fact itself reported to me to be notably incorrect, on the contrary the wording is distinct, thus, "I have duly received your letter regarding the withdrawal of certain pickets. As I have received orders from the government at Herat to consult Captain Yates, who was deputed to Penjdeh by Sir Peter Lumsden in such matters. I showed him your letter. Captain Yates afterward had an interview with Colonel Zakrchrewski and informed me of the conversation which ensued. Be it know to ye, I must loyally obey the orders I have received from his highness, the Ameer. I can in no wise act contrary to the orders of my sovereign. Of course, in matters of detail, such as alterations in position, advanced guards and videttes, I am prepared to arrange with ye with a view to the avoidance of any risk of conflict."

Ninthly General Komaroff says, he again addressed a private letter, couched in friendly terms. In reply I say the letter in question was never seen by any other officer, but Captain Delashoe was told that a letter had been received a few hours before the Russian attack on the 30th. I have now called upon Sepoh Salas for a copy of the second letter.

Tenthly General Komaroff states: "On the 30th, to support my demands, I marched with my detachment against the Afghan position, counting still on pacific result, but the artillery fire and cavalry attack compelled me to accept a combat." In reply, I say that "the Russians advanced to attack the Afghans position, and of course the Afghans were obliged to defend themselves. Certainly the engagement was not begun by an artillery fire, as General Komaroff states, as the infantry fire was heard continuing several minutes before the first gun."

GENERAL GRANT

Unable to Sleep Soundly Last Night, Because of Self-Imposed Fatigue.

He Drives Out in an Open Carriage and Salutes in a Military Salute.

The Deadly Disease Eats its Way With Pain and Torment to the Patient.

MUCH FATIGUED.

General Grant Suffers From His Exercise—The Brazilian Cancer Cure.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, April 22. Dr. Douglass slept at the Grant mansion last night, and this morning said there was no evil effect from the general's exercise yesterday, unless it was in adding fatigue that prevented a profound sleep during the early part of the night. The general's pains are abated to-day, but the trouble at the base of the tongue is at all times the seat of greater or less pain to the patient.

A NEW DRUG.

Dr. Douglass in referring to the Brazilian cancer cure said it had never been used because there was no data at hand of its efficiency, and General Grant was not a patient to experiment upon. The doctor remarked, too, that the general was on the whole improved to-day, though he was yet a very sick man.

HE DRIVES OUT.

NEW YORK, April 22.—At noon General Grant and wife went to drive in an open carriage. The salutes given by by-standers were returned by the general with a smile and true military salute.

Wagner and the Wabash.

The object of Dr. Webb's president of the Wagner Car company—trip to St. Louis, is stated on good authority to have been for the purpose of demanding of the Wabash company the removal of the Mann boudoir cars from their routes with the alternative, in case of non-compliance, of the taking off of the Wagner sleepers. It is understood that this is an ultimatum on the part of the Wagner company. Whether the Wabash will comply is another question. General Manager Talmage has the matter under consideration, and will refer it to Jay Gould and a conclusion will soon be arrived at. Dr. Webb states that the Wagner cars are being made fully equal in every respect to all rivals, great improvements having been lately undertaken both in the making and equipment.

Sunday Base Ball in Indiana.

The anti Sunday base ball law does not go into effect until July 1. In the meantime points are being raised that may make it non-effective. One point is that an offense against a law must be an offense within itself, and not dependent upon any contingency, and it is claimed that persons playing ball on Sunday become guilty under this law only through the act of somebody else—that is, the person who charges the admission fee. Base ball playing "for fun" can take place on Sunday with impunity, but if there is any fee or money consideration connected with the game, it becomes a violation of the law.

LOCAL LINES.

Two boiler makers in the Wabash shop were laid off yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. E. Mayer are guests of the Aveline house.

The town clock was overhauled this morning and stopped for a few hours.

There is a freight blockade on the Pittsburg road and the sidetracks are crowded with loaded cars awaiting removal. This line captures the bulk of the east bound freight now.

Elsewhere in to-day's issue will be found the announcement of Mr. Otto Herbst, who is a candidate for city assessor. Mr. Herbst is an intelligent young man, and if nominated and elected would fill the office acceptably.

The funeral of Mrs. Timothy Hogan occured this morning from the cathedral, where solemn services for the dead were held, and Very Rev. Father Brammer paid a just tribute to the memory of the deceased. The funeral cortege was one of the largest that ever entered the Catholic cemetery.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

In these days of mysterious disappearances, it is comforting to know that bank cashiers are not the only fugitives. There are old tormentors who are not defaulters. Some of them stay much longer than they are wanted. In fact, they are not wanted at all; and the only gratification in connection with their history is when they get out and go away.

The experience of Mr. Isaiah T. Smith, of Chicago, shows how an unwelcome intruder may sometimes take sudden leave, and be very welcome in his going.

Mr. Smith is a resident of Waukegan, Ill., a few miles out of Chicago, and comes to town every day in the duty of his regular business, which is that of a miller and a dealer in flour. His face and form we regularly see "on change," where he is well-known to the business men of the city.

Mr. Smith had an old tormentor. That tormentor has disappeared. The mystery of its disappearance is best told by Mr. Smith himself, in a conversation which he had with one of our editors who recently visited him. Mr. Smith is a cheery gentleman, of nearly three score and ten, and gave his account substantially as follows:

"For a good many years rheumatism had its hold on me. For five years I was continually a martyr to it. With every change of the weather I had severe attacks. These were chiefly in the chest, but somewhat in the arms. For a considerable while I could not dress myself. My shoulders gave me almost constant pain, so much so that I could not, with any degree of comfort, lean back against a chair, or against the wall. The pain interfered with my sleep. Sometimes at night a paroxysm would take me suddenly. There were times at which my pains were so great that I thought I could not live an hour.

"Friends and doctors prescribed and advised almost everything on earth. I tried a great many of the things recommended. I dieted; I gave up smoking; I took morphine, and many other medicines. Nothing gave me anything better than temporary relief, until I took Athlophoros. At the time I took this remedy, the rheumatism had attacked my stomach with neuralgic pains and cramps; so you see that my case was a very severe one.

"I took Athlophoros exactly as directed, only a double dose, for my pains were so very severe. Very soon the pains mysteriously disappeared. After a while they returned, coming at regular periods, and each time with less force. Then they went all away, and since that, I am happy to say, they have never come back again.

"I think my case a remarkable one. How Athlophoros acts I don't pretend to say; I only know it acted on me. I had rheumatism so badly that sometimes I would wake in the night and tell my wife I couldn't live till morning. Athlophoros cured me.

"Do you want to know about my daughter-in-law? Well she had "milk-arm." Her arm was swollen as large as two arms ought to be. When the swelling abated, she was taken with severe rheumatic pains. These pains took her in the wrist and shoulders principally. Athlophoros acted on her as promptly as it did on me. I kept on giving it to her as long as she had any suffering. She had suffered for weeks. This was last Fall, and since that she has had no pains, nor any inconvenience, except a slight stiffness in the wrist.

"Our milkman, Mr. G. W. Coykendall, had rheumatism so badly that he had to have his little girl go around in the wagon with him and deliver the milk. I gave him Athlophoros, and less than a bottle of it cured him so that he could go his rounds by himself.

"How many bottles did I take? Well, one bottle did most of the business for me, but I wanted to kill my old tormentor completely, and so I kept on till I had taken four bottles. Now I come to town every day in all weathers. No storm or cold makes any difference with me. I am free from rheumatism. If it were to attack me again I would take Athlophoros and be done with it."

Thus the mystery is explained. The disappearance was natural enough. The old tormentor, Rheumatism, is put to flight by Athlophoros, the popular remedy for which all the best druggists now find a large and increasing demand.

MEXICO will adopt a new tariff, June 1.

NEXT Monday is the sixty-third anniversary of General Grant's birth.

GOVERNOR and Mrs. Gray will leave for New Orleans about May 1 to visit the exposition.

THERE is a fair prospect, says a New York telegram, of harmonizing all the factions in the democratic part, and electing a democratic governor this fall.

IT will cost Hon. Bayless W. Hanna, the new minister to Persia, nearly $3,000 for transportation for himself and family, to reach the capital of that empire. His salary is but $5,000 a year.

AUDITOR of State Rice drew a new warrant Monday for $55,616.68 in favor of John Martin, the latter surrendering the certificate issued to him by the commissioners of the insane hospital on November 2, 1881.

THE report of the state house commissioners for the quarter closing April 1, shows the expenditure of $60,900.61; total to date, $1,167,006.81. About 750,000 brick and an abundance of stone are on the ground.

THE system of primary nominations is on probation. If the best people go to the polls and say who shall be the democratic candidates THE SENTINEL has no fear of the result. The trouble is business men and artisans do not interest themselves sufficiently in these primary political affairs.

THE Tammany hall society held its annual election at New York Monday and the following gentlemen were honored: Sachems, John Kelly, John McQuade, J. J. Gorman, H. J. Grant, P. Henry Dugro, James J. Slevin, Nathan J. Clarvis, jr., Richard Croker, James A. Flack, Henry A. Gambleton, Charles Welde, William P. Kirk and Joel O. Stevens.

THE republican papers here sometimes criticise democratic methods, when it is a cold fact that the republican voters never have a voice in making party nominations, never participate in conventions and are subject to the worst phase of ring rule. The leaders dictate who the voters shall have for candidates and with an imperial air announce, "That settles it." Who ever heard of a local republican convention or primary election?

LEWIS COUNTS, a heavy stockholder in the Spiker-Harrison manufacturing establishment, at Logansport, has filed papers asking that a receiver be appointed for the concern. The complaint sets forth that George Harrison, president of the board of directors, has appropriated proceeds of the concern to his own use, and that it is in immediate danger of dissolution. The company is a joint stock concern, with a capital stock of $32,000.

It has long stood at the head of the list of kidney remedies and it receives the highest praise from all that use it.

Metal Poison.

I am a coppersmith by trade, and during a series of years my arms (being bare when at work) have absorbed a wonderful amount of metal poison. Having a scrofulous tendency from my youth, the small particles of copper and brass would get into the sores, and by this process the poison was conveyed into my blood till my whole system became infected. I was treated with the old remedies of mercury and iodide potassium. Salivation followed, my teeth are all loose in my head my digestive organs deranged, and I have been helpless in bed for over a year with mercurial rheumatism. My joints were all swollen and I lost the use of my arms and legs, and became helpless as in infant.

My sufferings became so intense that it was impossible for me to rest. The doctors advised me to go to the city hospital for treatment. This I could not bear. A friend, who has proved a friend indeed, urged me to try Swift's Specific, believing it would cure me. Others discouraged me, but I secured a few bottles, and have now taken two dozen bottles. The first effect of the medicine was to bring the poison to the surface, and I broke out all over in running sores. They soon disappeared, and my skin cleared off. My knees, which had become twice their natural size, have resumed their usual size, and are supple as of yore. My arms and hands are all right again, and can use them without pain. The entire disease has left all parts of the body save two ulcers on my wrists, which are healing rapidly. I am weak from long confinement, but I have the use of all my limbs. This medicine is bringing me out of the greatest trial of my life, and I cannot find any words sufficient to express my appreciation of its virtues, and the gratitude I feel that I ever heard of it. PETER E. LOVE,

Malarial Poison.

The drouth in the southwest Georgia last spring dried up the wells, and we were compelled to use water from creek on the plantation. The result was that all were troubled with chills and fever. I carried with me several bottles of Swift's Specific, and as long as I took it I had perfect health. As soon as I ceased taking it, I, like the rest, was afflicted with chills. When I resumed its use, I was all right again. We have used it in our family as an antidote for malaria poison for two or three years, and have never known it to fail in a single instance. W. C. The gas company propose to lay mains to the city limits, a point near Notre Dame cemetery, the college authorities to continue them to Notre Dame and St. Mary's. The expense will be about equally divided, the estimate being $5,000 for the gas company and $4,000 for the university. It costs about $4,000 a year to light the two institutions.

At the Cathedral next Sunday forenoon, at the 10 o'clock services, one hundred children will receive their first communion. Rev. Father Brammer will celebrate solemn high mass and preach. A GREAT CORPORATION.

A Review of the Lines Owned and Controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company—Their Mileage

The Pennsylvania Railroad company, operating among others the Pittsburg, Grand Rapids and Richmond roads through Fort Wayne, has just filed with the chief engineer of the city of Philadelphia the mileage of the roads owned or controlled by this great corporation. The statistics were prepared by Chief Engineer Brown, of the Pennsylvania road, giving in detail facts and figures respecting all the lines east and west of Pittsburg and Erie owned, leased and controlled by the company on the 1st of January, 1885. The lines owned number seventeen, and those leased and controlled east of Pittsburg and Erie foot up nineteen. Then comes the Pennsylvania company, with its many allied roads, making in all an aggregate of 7,122 38-100 miles of railroad and 11,094 18-100 miles of track.

The lines owned, leased and controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad company, east of Pittsburg and Erie, run through the different states as follows: New York, 104.50 miles; New Jersey, 708.85; Pennsylvania, 2,431.63; Delaware, 161.89; Maryland, 412.05; District of Columbia, 8.17; Virginia, 92.37; West Virginia, 11.80. Total, 3,936.66.

West of Pittsburg and Erie—Pennsylvania, 243.12 miles; West Virginia, 35.15; Kentucky, 3.01; Ohio, 1,262.99; Indiana, 1,052.84; Illinois, 216.55; Michigan, 375.06. Total, 3,188.72.

Virginia City and Gold Hill.

These places have badly run down since the mines gave out. Houses are empty and dilapidated. Property will hardly sell for the amount of the taxes on it. This is bad business, and the worst of it is that there is no remedy for it. When an over-worked business man fails in health and becomes debilitated it is bad, but we can do something for him. Brown's Iron Bitters will put him in working order. Buy this best of tonics of any druggist.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

Fort Wayne Paint and Color Works,

No. 12 West Columbia Street Fort Wayne, Indiana.

To Painters

And others wanting First-class Paints: Do you know that you have in Fort Wayne a Manufacturer of Mixed Paint and Grinder of Colors, where you can buy your Paints from first hand instead of paying the middle man his profits, which are from 25 to 33⅓ per cent. O. L. STARKEY, the Painter and proprietor of the Fort Wayne Paint and Color Works, came to Fort Wayne in April, 1856, and is identified as one of the old citizens who has helped build up Fort Wayne, and his knowledge of Paints and the composition of pigments to form different shades and tints is well-known to the public, and his long practical experience in painting gives him the knowledge of Paints that a mere dealer cannot have for he does not know anything about Paints, as he buys them sealed up and he cannot tell you what it takes to make this or that shade. All he knows is what the label on the can says. Neither can he tell you shades that will or will not fade. By buying your Paints of O. L. STARKEY you can get all the information you want. I am making Liquid Paints in all shades and colors; also the same shades and colors in paste form, the same thickness as white lead and requires thinning down the same as white lead. In making the different shades my formulas are all registered giving the amount of each color it takes to form certain shades all thoroughly mixed together in the powder mills, then wet down and run through a mixing machine, and from there to the mills where it is all ground together making a pigment that cannot be made by hand. Call or send and get some of my sample cards of colors and tints; also see elevations of gothic houses colored up with four and five shades, which will give you a good idea how to paint and ornament the outside of your houses.

I say again, do not buy of the middle man if you want to save money. I will guarantee my prices and quality of goods with any manufacturer in the United States.
